General Works

Hopkins, Tom J., Writing the Western, 436
Houston, Noel, The Last Possible Moment, 319
How Do Your Characters Come to You, Louis Golding, 432
How to Get Ideas for Trade Journal Articles, Henry Huff, 406
How to Write About Young People, Gladys Taber, 10
Huff, Henry, How to Get Ideas for Trade Journal Articles, 406
Hughes, Dorothy B., The Challenge of Mystery Fiction, 177
Hutchinson, Dwight, Waste Products and Raw Material, 81

I Confess, Leonard Snyder, 367
If You're Thinking of Writing for Us, Walter Davenport (as told to James N. Young), 119
Indispensable Aids, The, Mary Frances Doner, 292
It's A Mystery to Me, Baynard Kendrick, 324

Jerard, Elise, That Cold Dull Thud, 283
Johnson, Burges, Literary Agents and Mss. Readers, 394
Joseph, Nannine, The Agent and the Beginner, 134

Keatley, Vivien B., Writing the Fact Article, 290
Kendrick, Baynard, It's A Mystery to Me, 324
Kleeman, Rita Halle, Writing Is Such Nice Work, 74

L'Amour, Louis, Stories from Your Newspaper, 258; You'd Better Be Right, 405
Last Possible Moment, The, Noel Houston, 319
Latimer, Robert, "What It Takes" for the Business Paper Market, 399
Learning About Playwriting, Walter Prichard Eaton, 139
Letter from an Editor, Joe McCarthy, 216
Literary Agents and Mss. Readers, Burges Johnson, 394
Living Character, The, William E. Barrett, 115
Long, Laura M., Give with the Glamour, 370
Lorwin, Irving R., Sunday Local Magazines, 299

Manuscript Market, The, 23, 55, 88, 156, 194, 230, 267, 302, 339, 373, 410, 448
Margulies, Leo, The "Million-of-Words" Market, 129
Markets for Housewives, Katherine Dissinger, 225
Mason, Miriam E., Writing for the Least Ones, 43
McCarthy, Joe, Letter from an Editor, 216
McCleary, Dorothy, What A Short Story Is, 252
McCloy, Helen, The Writing and Selling of Mysteries, 136
Memo from a Publisher, John Farrar and Roger W. Straus, Jr., 133
Meyersburg, Dorothy, Creating Vivid Characters, 49
Miller, Nolan, What Is a Writer, 3
"Millions-of-Words" Market, The, Leo Margulies, 129
Miracles Not Wanted, Vincent J. Daly, 263
Moncure, Peyton, You and the Article, 20
Moore, Isabel, The Black Moment, 211
Munson, Gorham, The Secret of Fluency, 35
Murphy, Abbie M., Get Going on Greetings, 255

Non-Fiction That Sells, Harry Shaw, 123
Notes on Writing a Novel, Elizabeth Grey Stewart, 364

Oboler, Arch, Thoughts on Radio Playwriting, 131
Of Writing and a Writer, Anya Seton, 126
Our Diamond Anniversary, A. S. Burack, 108

Paid for Breathing, Naomi John White, 217
Parable of Poetry: Devotion, John Holmes, 144
Prize Offers and Awards, 30, 67, 100, 170, 207, 243, 279, 315, 350, 386, 423, 454

Quick, Dorothy, The Writing of Poetry, 78

Rostrum, From Our, 20, 51, 86, 190, 225, 263, 297, 336, 370, 405, 443
Rule Number Three, B. J. Chute, 391

Schweitzer, Gertrude, Where Do You Get Your Plots, 286
Secret of Fluency, The, Gorham Munson, 35
See Your Story, Catharine Barrett, 76
Seton, Anya, Of Writing and a Writer, 126
Sharpe, Pauline, Broaching Television, 221
Shaw, Harry, Non-Fiction That Sells, 123
Short Stories of Tomorrow, Edward Weeks, 113
Snyder, Leonard, I Confess, 367
Stewart, Elizabeth Grey, Notes on Writing a Novel, 364
Storey, Ruth-Ellen, Story Sense: Can It Be Cultivated, 71
Stories from Your Newspaper, Louis L'Amour, 258
Story Sense: Can It Be Cultivated, Ruth-Ellen Storey, 71
Straus, Jr., Roger W., and Farrar, John, Memo from a Publisher, 133
Style, Personality and the Magazine Article, Maurice Zolotow, 355
Sunday Local Magazines, Irving R. Lorwin, 299
Suspense Story, The, Mitchell Wilson, 15

Taber, Gladys, How to Write About Young People, 10
That Cold Dull Thud, Elise Jerard, 283
That First Novel, Barbara Gilman, 430
There's Room for You Here, Pauline Bloom, 322

Think of Yourself as a Writer, Vera Channels, 371
Third Act First, The, Carl Glick, 38
Thoughts on Radio Playwriting, Arch Oboler, 131
Three Necessary Ingredients, Phyllis A. Whitney, 327
Tigar, Jean, When They Come Back, 86
Tovey, Esther C., When Writers Get Together, 443
Trade Secrets of Maupassant, The, Donald B. Gordon, 297
Truth Is Too Strange for Fiction, Rita Weiman, 396

Waste Products and Raw Material, Dwight Hutchinson, 81
Wechsberg, Joseph, Don't Try To Be Funny, 175
Weeks, Edward, Short Stories of Tomorrow, 113
Weiman, Rita, Truth Is Too Strange for Fiction, 396
We're Waiting for Stories, Frank Brookhouser, 247
What a Short Story Is, Dorothy McCleary, 252
What Is a Free Lance, George Freitag, 331
What Is a Writer, Nolan Miller, 3
"What It Takes" for the Business Paper Market, Robert Latimer, 399
What Makes a Post Serial, 288
Wheeler, Roy, Cut Your Postage Costs, 226
When They Come Back, Jean Tigar, 86
When Writers Get Together, Esther C. Tovey, 443
Where Do You Get Your Plots, Gertrude Schweitzer, 286
White, Naomi John, Paid for Breathing, 217
Whitney, Phyllis A., Why Write for Children, 148; Three Necessary Ingredients, 327
Why Write for Children, Phyllis A. Whitney, 148
Wilson, Mitchell, The Suspense Story, 15
Winship, L. L., The Founder of The Writer, 109
Wolseley, Roland E., Writing Salable Articles, 336
Writers Are Born — And Made Better, Richard Armour, 360
Writer's Library, The, 152, 192, 228, 265, 338, 387, 408
Writing a Prize Novel, Loula Grace Erdman, 249
Writing and Selling of Mysteries, The, Helen McCloy, 136
Writing for Cosmopolitan, Dale Eunson, 362
Writing for Money, Bernard DeVoto, 183
Writing for the Anglo-Jewish Market, Carl Alpert, 190
Writing for the Least Ones, Miriam E. Mason, 43
Writing for the Pulps: Here's How, Pauline Bloom, 358
Writing Is Such Nice Work, Rita Halle Kleeman, 74
Writing of Poetry, The, Dorothy Quick, 78
Writing Salable Articles, Roland E. Wolseley, 336
Writing the Fact Article, Vivien B. Keatley, 290
Writing the Western, Tom J. Hopkins, 436

You and the Article, Peyton Moncure, 20
You Can Sell Without An Agent, Mabel McNeil Hagen, 12
You'd Better Be Right, Louis L'Amour, 405

Zolotow, Maurice, Style, Personality and the Magazine Article, 355